SHE OF HIS CLOTHES.

And Takes Great Pains to Have Her Husband Properly Dressed.

The wife of a man who served with distinction as a cabinet officer during a recent administration entered a tailor shop near Fifth avenue a week ago and said to the proprietor:

"I am Mrs. So-and-so, and I don't suppose that women come into your shop very often."

"A good many women help their husbands to select their clothes," said the proprietor.

"Well, I am glad to hear that," said the woman. "I have bought my husband's clothes for him ever since we were married, and if I did not look out for them he would not have any clothes. He never thinks of them. Didn't even when he was in Washington, though he was always properly dressed. Now I want some spring clothes for my husband. I will select the samples for three suits, and I will tell you just how to make them. When my husband comes to get measured, don't pay any attention to his orders about the clothes if he gives any. If he ordered his own clothes, he would not be suited anyway."

The proprietor found that this woman knew as much as the average man about men's clothes, and he accepted her directions. On the following day, when her husband came in, the proprietor recognized him from his pictures and said:

"Mr. So-and-so, your wife selected goods for three suits of clothes for you yesterday, and if you will step back I will show you the patterns."

"Young man," said the ex-cabinet officer, "I would not dare to interfere with my wife's selections. Just take my measure as quickly as you can and make the clothes as directed."

After the measurements had been made the ex-cabinet minister hurried out without asking what style of suits had been ordered for him.—New York Sun.

Compliment With a Sting.

Talk about delightfully put compliments! I heard a girl at supper deliver herself of a perfect jewel the other night. She leaned across the table—the table next to me—to say it, and she meant well.

"Oh, Miss Dumdum," she said cordially, "I've got a trade at last for you!"

"A swap?" asked Miss Dumdum, beaming with anticipatory delight.

"Uhuh!" answered the other. "Lieutenant Bulbul said it."

"Oh, do tell it!" pleaded Miss Dumdum eagerly.

"It was an awfully nice one," said the first girl, "and Lieutenant Bulbul meant it too. He said you waited divinely. He said he was awfully surprised, too, to find it out, so I know he meant it. He said he wouldn't have thought from seeing you walk that you could dance at all!"—Washington Post.

Fishermen in Holland kill all fish as soon as they are landed, while French fishermen, on the contrary, allow them to die of asphyxiation.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Millinery Sale.

Mrs. Murphy offers her entire stock of millinery goods for less than cost. Ladies desiring bargains will please call and examine her stock. A ticket with every 25-cent purchase entitles the holder to a chance in the Piano Voting contest. Parlors upstairs in Hartung Building.

A SPELLING TEST.

Here Are Some Tongue Twisters With Which to Grapple.

If you can spell every word correctly in the following rhymes—all legitimate expressions—you may consider yourself qualified to enter a spelling bee:

Stand up, ye spellers, now and spell—
Spell phenakistoscope and knell;
Or take some simple word as chilly
Or gauger or the garden lily.
To spell such words as syllolism
And lachrymose and synchroism
And Pentateuch and saccharine,
Apocrypha and celandine,
Jepine and homopoepr,
Paralyse and chloroform,
Rhinoscora and pachyderm,
Metempsychosis, gherkins, basque,
Is certainly no easy task.
Kaleidoscope and Tennessee,
Kantchaka and cynoplas
And etiquette and sassafras,
Infatible and typhalim,
Allopathy and rheumatism
And ecstasy and beleaguer,
Twelfth, eighteenth, rendezvous, intrigues,
And hosts of other words all found
On English and on classic ground;
Thus being strait and Michaelmas,
Thermopylae, jalap, Havana,
Canquelfol and Ipecacuanha
And Rappahannock, Shenandoah
And Schuykill and a thousand more
Are words some prime good spellers miss
In dictionary lands like this.
Nor need one think himself a scroyle
If some of these his efforts foil
Nor deem himself undone forever
To miss the name of either river,
The Danube, Seine or Guadalquivir.
—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

The Stomach.

Large portions of the stomach may be excised, or even the whole may be removed, with no very great mortality, and in successful cases with wonderfully little effect on the patient's digestion. The stomach hardly occupies in our present opinion so important a place in digestion as it formerly held. We know that it is rather a preparer for the exercise of the digestive powers of the pancreas than an active digestive agent itself and that one of its functions is to render innocuous many of the micro-organisms which enter with the food. So we can understand to some extent the small amount of interference with digestion produced by even considerable resections of the stomach.—Lancet.

Cassava and Fish.

Cassava and fish form the chief articles of food of the Caribs of Guatemala, and the former is cultivated only in sufficient quantities for their daily needs, as a vegetable to eat with their fish, to make their strange bread and to make the cassareep, which forms their only sweet.

Two Uplifters.

"What," exclaimed the orator—"what two things are helping mankind to get up in the world?"

"The alarm clock and the stepladder," answered the dense person in the rear of the hall.—Baltimore American.

It always makes a man mad to have his name misspelled in a newspaper, because he believes everybody ought to know his name.—Atchison Globe.

A New Departure for Reno.

F. C. Savage's new Plumbing & Heating Display store and office at 318 Virginia street will be opened about July 1st.

Mr. Savage intends to devote his time exclusively to the business. All work will have his personal supervision.

He has employed Mr. Davis of San Francisco who comes highly recommended to the people of Reno.

With Mr. Savage's experience and the assistance that a first-class up-to-date workman from the city affords, they should, and will, undoubtedly, command a good share of the public patronage in the plumbing and heating line. 28j-1w

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praise throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. THE POLITICAL TENDENCY.

In these times when conventions have been speaking there can be secured a consensus of opinion entertained by the people about political conditions now upon them. It is very evident they understand the political situation and are very much influenced by it. The fact remaining to be ascertained is included in the many there are who understand the position of the country as presented by the course pursued by those in authority, and who will be influenced by their convictions to act independent of past party considerations. The influence of prejudice is more than the individual is at all times aware of. There is no doubt about the grip present environment has upon the mind, and which will continue unless there is a strong conviction that becomes a moving cause full of demands that require a change to accommodate the mind to its new convictions. When the mind is persuaded a wrong is present it is natural it should seek some means to relieve it of the pressure the wrong is making upon it. As conditions are, it will be the more intelligent and conscientious who will feel the pressure sufficiently to cause a change, to provide new relations which will be more suitable to comfort in thought, which will find approval in action.

It is very evident from all that transpired at Kansas City that many minds will hereafter find approval in action. The expression made by Silver Republicans in their platform and in their speeches in convention clearly foreshadow the pressure there is upon the minds of the more intelligent and better class of people among Republicans. The platform made by the Silver Republicans is full of thought expressed upon the undesirable attitude they are in to themselves and to their country. The majority of those who were present and participating in the convention have been identified with opposition to the democratization of silver from the time opposition took a positive form, but many have identified themselves with the opposition in the last year who had not identified themselves with the movement until they were persuaded that the Republican party was insincere in its friendship for the white metal.

The causes for discontent are so many that the movement may take the proportions of a stampede before the idea of November. The platform made by the Silver Republicans is in line with the platform adopted by the Democrats, the difference being chiefly in language. There are matters of weight noticed by the Silver Republicans that were not entered upon by the Democratic convention. Noticeable among the matters not mentioned by the Democrats is the matter of irrigation, which will become, as it should be now, a demand requiring immediate attention from congress, but there will be no action taken in the interest of the home-maker in that or in any matter in particular until the trusts and their protection have ceased to monopolize the attention of the national legislature.

The most hopeful relations there are for the future good of the country and the future relief of the people made an appearance in a determination manifested by those directing business to act in harmony upon essentials, to the subordination of lesser matters. When causes are sought upon which union of action can be made, they will be found when the common good requires attention and care.

The time is present when men who are patriots have no difficulty in finding common ground upon which they can stand and make common cause against those who are seeking to enslave the people by destroying our government system and building upon its ruins a despotism directed by the will of one man or by an oligarchy called Congress. It is deemed to be a very proper matter to mention that there were a number of men who participated in the Silver Republican convention who voted for Fremont also many others for the number of delegates, who composed the convention, who voted for Lincoln the first time he was elected president and not less than seventy five men who were in the war of the rebellion and who fought to sustain the union were delegates.

Mention is made of these facts to show the feeling there is among the people who have given to the world evidence that they love their country and their fellow men more than they love money and its power. Webster Davis who was present at the late convention at Philadelphia was also present at the Silver Republican convention at Kansas City. When he was at Philadelphia he was an old live Republican, when he was at Kansas City he was a Lincoln Republican and addressed the Silver Republican convention, stating that he had renounced the Republican party and its methods.

The JOURNAL mentioned that Mr. Davis was at Philadelphia and made a suggestion to the leaders that something should be said at the convention to remove an impression entertained by many Republicans that a secret alliance existed between the United States and England. Mr. Davis at the time claimed to direct attention to the matter to prevent disaster to the party but there was not anything said upon the subject. He will make it a part of his work in the future to aid the disaster by stamping the State of Ohio for Bryan and Stevenson. It is admitted that he gave material aid to McKinley in 1896 by his political work in that State. The present tendency among the more patriotic in the Republican party is to support Bryan and Stevenson, which tendency will continue to enlarge as the canvass becomes interesting and warm over the acknowledged evils there are in government.

The Works Close Down.

The JOURNAL is informed by Mr. Burton, president of the Electric Mining and Reduction Company, that the work of its reduction plant was closed down yesterday without notice in a speedy manner, not in the least to the advantage of the company, or to its work.

J. N. Evans, who has recorded for use six hundred inches of water flowing in the Truckee river, turned out twenty three hundred inches, which included more water than there was in the river to supply the demand made upon it by Mr. Evans and leave sufficient remaining to run the mill and works of the company.

Mr. Burton claims the misappropriation has materially damaged the company, and a speedy retribution in damages at the end of a lawsuit is now a part of its business. Mr. Burton says the water taken out has been measured and the quantity taken ascertained to be correct.

It might be well for those who have water rights connected with the Truckee to so use them that the rights of others will not be infringed upon.

A Close Call.

Once I sailed these seas, where are the cannibals, with a corpulent captain. Whenever a chief came on board the first thing he was sure to admire was the proportions of our gallant tar, and the chief would feel him and smack his own lips and turn up his own eyes at the prospect of so much fatness—going to waste, as one may say. These attentions our skipper very much disliked.

Well, one day both boats were absent trading, and it fell suddenly calm. "The old man" (the fore-castle name for a skipper) and self were the only whites on board. The strong currents caught the vessel and carried her on to the rocks, and we could get no bottom a hundred yards from the shore. The underflow from the waves kept her from striking. The natives gathered on the cliffs, as ravens to a carcass, waiting for the catastrophe. I took off all my clothes, and we waited and waited for some two hours, the natives recognizing the captain and telling him plainly they would eat him at last.

The strain on our nerves may be imagined. At last the captain's gave way. "Goodby, G—, old fellow," he said. "Those beasts will have me in the ovens at once. You may escape—you are thin. If you see my old girl again, tell her I was thinking of her at the last." This was said with a gulp and a quiver in the voice. But just then the two boats came round the point, having at last heard our stern guns, and we were saved.—"Among the Man Eaters," by John Gaggin.

Life Toast.

Brown was very much in love with pretty Miss Simpson and had told her so repeatedly, but in vain. She did not reciprocate. Brown's friends knew of the affair, and whenever Brown gave a toast Miss Simpson was made the subject of it. One night, when Brown and his companions were enjoying a little supper among themselves, one of the men said: "Come, Brown, your usual toast."

"No," came the reply. "Since I can't make her Brown I'll toast her no longer."—London Answers.

Lady Betty.

In pre-revolutionary days there was a woman public executioner in Virginia. At that time death sentences were resented on condition that a criminal should perform this office.

"Lady Betty," as she was afterward called, was sentenced to death for murder. She offered instead to become public executioner and held this office for many years.

It is said that on the scaffold she afflicted without a mask.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Hardened.

"How came a man of your ability and position in society ever to engage in counterfeiting?" the judge asked him.

"I wanted a light easy way to make money at my own home, your honor," answered the prisoner.

The judge looked at him sharply and gave him the full limit of the law.

Stewart & Meiss have one of the nicest shops in the State, and they keep nothing but first quality of meat. Choicest whiskies, cognacs, Holland gin, sherries and ports for medicinal purposes, at Thyes'. Prices lowest in town. John Sunderland carries the finest stock of summer goods to be found anywhere. His prices are within the reach of all. Anheuser-Busch is the only eastern beer in Reno. It is handled by the Monarch saloon company. Not the cheapest, but the best. Buffalo beer is cool, sharp, sparkling, wholesome. Rutledge & Pringle and Virginia street, are wholesale and retail dealers in this beverage. A cup of strong, fragrant coffee is a fine thing these frosty mornings, but a coffee cocktail is better. Both can be had at the Washoe Lunch Counter. Henry Ritter's free lunches are made from the best material the market affords; enough for a hungry man. A bit buys a good drink to wash it down. The window at the Model contains an artistic and valuable assortment of Indian curios. Mr. Davis carries the most complete line of novelties in the State. The Louvre is now provided with an excellent orchestra, which gives concerts every afternoon and evening. Good drinks and cigars and square games. Read our new ad on white skirts and waists. You cannot go on that Picnic to Laughlin or Steamboat without one of these fine garments. Always to please. Novelty Dry Goods Store.

Democrats Call Primaries.

The Democratic State Central Committee has named August 25, 1900, as the day for holding primary elections for the selection of delegates to the State convention at Virginia City on September 6th next.

Care in choosing delegates to the convention should be observed by Democrats. There are not many candidates to be chosen for State officers, but there is a necessity that independent men whose individuality is above suspicion be selected as delegates. A convention of Democrats cannot have a master and be a Democratic convention, and if not a Democratic convention it cannot represent Democratic principles.

Situation in the East Is Less Serious.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, July 10.—The Chinese situation is more hopeful at present than at any time in the past month. It is learned from the highest source that Prince Ching with ten thousand troops has opposed Prince Tuan's ferocious designs against the Peking ministers.

Fighting between opposing factions has been terrific and hundreds have been slain, but the legations are believed to be intact.

More Troops for China.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Fourth and Eighteenth regiments have been ordered from Manila to China. Five hundred marines will also sail from San Francisco August 1.

Plan of the Campaign.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 9.—The Democratic leaders had a conference with Bryan and Stevenson today. Bryan will not stump the country as he did before. The plan of the campaign will be announced in a few days.

WASHOE MINES

A Review of Some of the Olinghouse Canyon Properties.

One of the most promising—we may put it stronger and say the most promising—mining districts in Nevada is the White Horse mining district, located in Washoe county, about eight miles northwest of the thriving little burg of Wadsworth. Some of the mostbacked and calamity howlers who are wont to revile their native State as having been made by God in His wrath would do well to look beneath the soil, instead of above it, for evidence of the delities' dowry, and Olinghouse canyon, Tiger canyon and vicinity would be a happy locality in which to begin the tardy investigation. Olinghouse is a new district—not only new, but undeveloped. It has not been boomed by ambitious speculators, because they have overlooked a good thing in their greed for great speculations. It is only within the last three or four years that the mines have been prospected to any extent worth mentioning, and even yet the operations have not reached the magnitude which the promising nature of the gold and silver bearing ores at the surface would warrant.

Beyond any doubt the rich free milling prospects furnished by the several leading mines, among which are the Forlorn Hope, Jackson, No. 2, Cabin, Hutchinson, Slip, Oro and Gold Ledge, would arouse the cupidty of the most pessimistic mining expert upon the Pacific coast.

Ore containing free gold, gold so coarse that in may often be detected, even estimated by the primitive process known as "burning" or "panning," is characteristic of the district. It is true that sulphide ore has been found, some, for instance, in the Forlorn Hope, which assayed over $1,000 per ton in gold. This ore was milled in the canyon, where two small mills for treating free gold and silver ores have been built within the last four years, and the extraction, while not complete, was good enough to satisfy the miners.

The first mill is an improved four-foot Huntington crusher, run by a ten-horse power gasoline engine. It is known as the Slip mill, Poole & McEachren owners.

The second mill is a two stamp affair, run by a ten-horse power steam engine. It has run almost continuously since it was built, and Mr. Proctor, the owner, often has more ore on hand than he can well handle. The amalgamation is carried on in the battery and ore plates, no pans being used. The tailings are carefully restrained by dams, and when the proper time comes will probably be treated by the improved cyanide process.

Committee Reports.

A meeting of the citizens' and Wheelmen's committee on the relay celebration was held last evening. A financial report, which is appended, was read.

On motion, $50 was ordered sent to Trainer Ryan.

The committee decided to give Mr. Ryan a benefit entertainment, the date of which has not yet been set. The following committees were appointed: On arrangements, Sol Levy, Prof. McDowell and Mr. Wigg; on entertainment, Messrs. Porteous, Webster and Coffin.

It was decided to send twenty-five tickets each to Senators Jones and Stewart and Congressman Newlands, to be paid for or returned.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. THE STONE MAN SOLD Shipped to Boston and Will be Exhibited in a Museum.

Excitement over the discovery of the human fossil in the hills north of this city continues unabated. Yesterday and Sunday there was a constant crowd in front of the Ruas House begging for admission to the room where the ghastly relic was kept.

The discoverers of "the thing" refused to display their find even at so much a head. A number of large oval offers were made and declined but we learn that George D. Barton has become the possessor of the man of stone. The purchase price is said to be well up in three figures. In fact the glorious drunk indulged in by Messrs. Merritt and McOscar, the lucky prospectors, is evidence that they came into possession of quite a little sum.

Mr. Barton had the body boxed up yesterday and shipped to Boston where it will be placed in a museum.

Yesterday Mr. Barton, Artist Lary, W. A. Kelley, John Fitzgerald and a JOURNAL reporter drove out to the scene of the discovery. The fossil was found in Spring gulch on the Boulevard claim, owned by Webster and Goldwaldt, three miles north of this city.

On the way out the party passed a shaft that was being sunk by Jake Griner, who was present when the body was exhumed. He was picked up as a guide and the niche in which the body had reposed was easily found.

Every indication point to the fact that the find is a bone fide one. Mr. Lary took a number of views of the clay bank which had contained the body. There were depressions corresponding to the head, back and limbs of the fossil. It lay in a two foot seam of clay, above and below which are strata of gravel. The body was found on the outer curve of the gulch opposite to which the ancient stream had cut to bedrock.

Before the fossil was shipped the JOURNAL reporter critically examined it and is of the opinion that it is neither petrification nor fake. Every indication is that it is a fossil. The man probably met his death by drowning in one of the ancient lakes that existed in this region. His body was imbedded in the mud of the lake which hardened as the waters receded and left an exact impression of the body, which later slowly decomposed and vanished in gases.

Subsequently this clay mold was filled with the depositions of a stream which later flowed over the place.

The writer got a headache figuring this all out and is in a mood to scrap with anybody who argues differently.

Rates Were Restored.

Several weeks ago the rates on ore from Ornsana to this city were raised from $5 50 to $11. This was a severe blow to the Reno Reduction works which annually receives hundreds of carloads from the Arabia and Trinity districts. In fact, if the new rate had been adhered to it would probably have resulted in the removal of the establishment. President Barton has had considerable correspondence with Collis P. Huntington relative to the matter and yesterday he received a telegram to the effect that rates had been restored to the old figure.

Give Him a Call.
